Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

Do you really want to know what I think? I doubt it, because you can't possibly relate to me. You think I'm just going to complain about having to pay a tax. Well, I'm one of the few people in this country who doesn't complain about my taxes. I see taxation as a way of ensuring the quality of life for the greater good. Pooled money can do a great deal of good. My problem with this tax is that it isn't apparent what service these taxes provide. If you won't bother to explain it, than I can't understand it. Anything I don't understand ought to come from a general federal fund. Why do we have representatives? Tracfone makes a good point that as an individual, you are - yes you are picking at my bones. I do the right things in my life. I took care of my parents until the medical establishment killed them. I'm stuck in the same job for 15 years and afraid of losing my job with the fear that bagging groceries will be my next destiny. For once, leave me alone.

cc: Marlene Dortch, Secretary

Sincerely,

Leif Mealone
